Author	Michael Morpurgo	· ·	Who's For the Game? – Jessie Pope In Flanders Field – John McCrae
Key Dates			III Flanders Field – John McCrae
World War On	e 1914 - 1918
Start of WW1 28 th July 1914
Britain entered WW1 4 th August 1914
WW1 ended 11 th November 1918
Geographical F	ocus
Europe	<ul> <li>Countries in Triple Entente: Gr</li> <li>Countries in the Triple Alliance</li> <li>Other key countries: Belgium,</li> </ul>	: Germany, Austro-Hu	ngary, (Italy)
Historical Focus Causes of World War One		Trenches
Empire	Lots of different countries around the world ruled	Trench	A long ditch dug deep into the ground.
	by one country		To protect the soldiers from enemy fire, because the soldiers couldn't be seen.
Alliance	Where two or more countries sign an official	Trench warfare	To force the enemy back and out of your country, by fighting and capturing thei document agreeing to protect each other		trenches.

Assassination	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand	Purpose of Trench
Assassination	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to	Purpose of Trench Warfare	Soldiers dug long ditches in the ground to protect them while fighting and trying to push the enemy back.
Assassination	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand	Warfare	to push the enemy back.
Assassination	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to	•	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication
	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to	Warfare Types of trenches	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.
	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to	Warfare	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor
Recruitment	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war	Warfare  Types of trenches  Living conditions	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor uniforms and lack of good food.
Recruitment	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war  Posters and adverts designed to encourage men	Warfare Types of trenches Living conditions Weapons and	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor
Recruitment Propaganda	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war	Warfare  Types of trenches  Living conditions	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor uniforms and lack of good food.  Rifles, bayonets, artillery shells, sandbags, barbed wire
Recruitment Propaganda	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war  Posters and adverts designed to encourage men to join the army	Warfare  Types of trenches  Living conditions  Weapons and equipment	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor uniforms and lack of good food.
Recruitment Propaganda Training	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war  Posters and adverts designed to encourage men to join the army  Men were trained in camps in Britain and in	Warfare  Types of trenches  Living conditions  Weapons and equipment	to push the enemy back.  Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor uniforms and lack of good food.  Rifles, bayonets, artillery shells, sandbags, barbed wire  When neither side can push their enemy back very far and it looks like neither
Assassination  Recruitment  Propaganda  Training  Punishment	The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was used as an excuse for Austro-Hungary to declare war  Posters and adverts designed to encourage men to join the army  Men were trained in camps in Britain and in France with minimal equipment and time	Warfare  Types of trenches  Living conditions  Weapons and equipment  Stalemate	Front line trenches, support trenches, reserve trenches and communication trenches, No Man's Land, dug outs.  Trenches were horrible places to live, made worse by the weather, poor uniforms and lack of good food.  Rifles, bayonets, artillery shells, sandbags, barbed wire  When neither side can push their enemy back very far and it looks like neither side can win.

Women did not work and were not allowed to join the fighting in the war. They had service roles e.g. cleaning, cooking

Most people in England went to Church. Christianity provided moral guidance

Religion

Women